TWO FAMILIES WIPED OUT

Five Persons Are Killed by Gas, Five Injured by Series of Explosions at Farrell Sunday; Deceaseds' Names Startle People Miles Away.

By United Press.

PAWBUCKETT, R. I., Jan. 28.—Fifteen persons lost their lives in a gas explosion this morning in a two-family cottage at Manville, near here, according to police reports today.

The body of Conway was found in the cellar. It was not known whether he was killed by the explosion or had gotten up earlier and was overcome while searching for the leak.

The explosion occurred shortly after 5 A. M. when Mrs. Michael Conway, awakened by her four-year-old daughter, Mary, who had detected the odor of gas, lit a lamp. A terrific explosion, heard for several miles, followed, completely wrecking the cottage.

In the other part of the house lived Mr. and Mrs. J. Hamel, their 10 children and a boarder.

Every occupant of the Hamel tenement was believed to have been killed.

Firemen searching the ruins have found six bodies. Two were recognized as those of Michael Conway and John Hamel. Mrs. Conway and her daughter escaped with their lives but not before they were blown into the street by the force of the blast.

The house in which the explosion occurred was one of several occupied by employees of the Manville-Tuckers Company, cotton manufacturers.

FARRELL, Jan. 28.—Five persons were burned to death and five injured, one probably fatally, when fire, caused by gas explosions, destroyed four houses here Sunday. The blasts rocked houses for several blocks; destroyed windows, and were heard for more than two miles.

GREECE READY TO RECOGNIZE
SOVIET REGIME

By United Press.

ATHENS, Jan. 28.—There is no reason why Greece's death, or establishment of a labor government in England should cause considerable changes in Russia or England or deter the solution of reparations, which is of paramount importance for restoration of the world's economy.

Premier Eleftherios Venizelos said in an interview with the United Press today.

"Proposed recognition of the Russian government by the Powers, likewise, will contribute greatly to stabilization of international relations. In view of the close economic link between Greece and Russia, it is most necessary that we recognize the soviet government, but taking a small nation, Greece cannot take the lead. However, we intend to recognize Russia immediately after the Powers do so."

Sage Is Given Light Sentence

By United Press.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—William L. Sage, found guilty last week of the murder of William McAnally in the ticket office of the Pennsylvania Railroad station in 1913, was sentenced today to serve not less than three and not more than six years in the Western Penitentiary.

Judge Potter, in pronouncing sentence, said he was giving Sage a small sentence as possible because he was convinced Sage was not a criminal at heart.

Sage's defense was that he shot McAnally accidentally and really wanted to kill Ralph Pauley, his superior in the ticket office, whom he charged with wrecking his home. Sage was returned here recently from Bakersfield, Cal., after his estranged wife strangled him.

Steering Gear Breaks, Machine Overturns

MOUNT PLEASANT, Jan. 28.—As J. F. Fitzsimmons of Monmouth was driving his automobile along Bessemer Hill Sunday the steering gear broke and the machine overturned. Mr. Fitzsimmons was brought to the Memorial Hospital for treatment of lacerations of the head.

A woman companion declined to be visited.

Schools Are Closed.

Connellsville's public schools were dismissed at noon today and no afternoon sessions were held in order to allow any who desired to do so to attend the funeral services for Joseph L. Smith, father of Superintendent E. B. Smith, held at the home near the Vernon. A number of persons, including High School teachers and school directors, were at the service.

Ball Park Near Trotter, Sunday
Games Planned

According to rumors that are afloat a tract of land on the Kearns farm near Trotter has been leased by two local baseball promoters who will lay out a park and erect a grandstand and bleachers for the coming season. It has also been announced that the team will more than likely see the game played on Sundays.

If the playing of baseball on Sunday is permitted the club aims to put on the field some of the best players obtainable, it was said.

STAR JUNCTION
GIRL'S CLOTHES
IGNITE; SHE DIES

Burns suffered Saturday night about 10:30 o'clock resulted in the death of Miss Mary Elizabeth Williams, 19 years old, well-known young woman of Star Junction, Sunday morning at the Connellsville State Hospital.

The young woman was in her bedroom and was about ready to retire when she met with the accident. While passing a gas stove her clothing ignited and she was burned all over her body before the flames were extinguished. Her sister, Margaret, and a cousin, who was visiting at the home, were also in the room.

Miss Williams was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Williams and had resided at Star Junction all her life. Besides her parents she is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Charles, Leonard, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Maxwell Wolf, all of Star Junction; Margaret, Ardie and Frank, all at home.

The body was removed by funeral director Ira Blair to his parlors at Perryopolis and last night was taken to the Williams home. The funeral service will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal Church at Star Junction, with Rev. J. A. Fergie, the pastor officiating. The interment will be made in Washington Run Cemetery.

WALSH AFTER DENBY'S SCALP
IN OIL PROBE

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Airing of the Teapot Dome and California oil leasing scandals was entering a new phase today with prospect of the scope of investigation broadening to the extent of bringing in several new personalities as factors in the alleged looting of the government's natural resources.

Secretary of the Navy Denby and Attorney General Daugherty have taken steps calculated to remove them from the cases under investigation by the Senate committee. Senator Walsh, of Montana, directing the probe, does not intend to permit them to slip out of the limelight, however.

He is seeking evidence that will connect Denby directly with the Teapot Dome and California leases. Denby signed the leases which involved hundreds of millions of dollars.

When he appeared before the investigating committee, however, he professed to know nothing of them. He could not say who obtained the leases, could not recall the amount of money he paid the government, nor any other details.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Teapot Dome, naval oil reserve, about which the greatest scandal in years centers, is a tract of 9,181 acres in Natrona county, Wyo., about 50 miles north of Casper.

The reserve takes its name from a rock formation towering above the surrounding country and combining a dome-shaped bulk of eroded sandstone with a spout that looks just like the spout of a tea-pot.

The oil, estimated at 23,000,000 barrels, is in a huge rock "cup" into which it drained through the ages and which now holds it just as though it were in a tank.

H. L. Shaner Sent To Latrobe Store

H. L. Shaner, who a few weeks ago became manager of the store of the Keystone Grocery Company in South Pittsburgh street, has been transferred to Latrobe. He took charge of the Westmoreland country establishment today. He is succeeded here by Bruce Smiley.

Three weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Shaner, united with the Christian Church and Mr. Shaner had become a member of the choir. He sang a solo, "My Task," at the Sunday morning service.

Scout Troop To Be Formed by Lutherans

An effort will be made Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, at a meeting at Trinity Lutheran Church, to form a troop of Boy Scouts from the membership of the church. Boys 12 years of age and over who are interested are urged to come.

The Men's Bible Class is backing the movement. Mr. Cromlish will be in charge.

LEISENRING NO. 1
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH BURNS

Fire Apparently Overcome Creeps Up Between Walls, Beyond Control.

LOSS PLACED AT $10,000

The First Presbyterian Church at Leisenring No. 1, frame structure, was totally destroyed by fire late Sunday afternoon when flames which started in the basement got beyond control of the H. C. Frick firemen.

The Connellsville Department was called and Chief W. E. DeBolt, together with some volunteer firemen, responded. The entire building was in flames when the firemen arrived. The total loss is estimated at about $10,000.

The fire was first discovered about 4 o'clock when Mrs. Ray Fleisher, who resides nearby, noticed smoke issuing from the building. The Frick firemen were called out and when they arrived flames were breaking through a hole in the auditorium.

The flames were extinguished and the building was inspected to determine if the fire was completely out. No other fire was discovered but while the men were busy rolling up their hose flames broke out through the roof and spread rapidly. They had been confined between the weather boarding and plastering.

A call was sent to Connellsville and shortly afterward the bell crashed from the tower. Two local departments added another stream to the two the Frick firemen were playing on the blaze. It was evident, however, that the place could not be saved.

When sparks began to fly towards nearby residences the flames pushed the wall in.

The only things saved from the church were the piano and 42 new hymn books. One hundred of these had only recently been purchased by the Daughters of Ruth Bible Class. At the morning service yesterday they were used for the second time.

Light insurance was carried. The church was in a flourishing condition being entirely free of debt.

The church was built under the direction of John Kaser, then superintendent of the old Leisenring works, and now resident at Big Gap, W. Va. It was larger than required by the present congregation and it is likely a smaller one will replace it.

The church had a seating capacity of about 600. The congregation is approximately 150. At present the church is without a pastor and Rev. David E. Niswonger has acted as a supply minister since the resignation of Rev. William Hamilton.

It was said that furnace fire, always allowed to go out after the service, had nearly died when Ray Fleisher, Samuel Long and H. R. MacBain, the former two elders and the latter a trustee in the church, left the church yesterday. They were the last to leave.

A meeting of the elders and trustees will be held this evening at the home of Ray Fleisher to make arrangements for temporary quarters. It is likely permission to use the Frick auditorium will be asked. It is the intention to rebuild.

SCOUTMASTERS MEET TONIGHT

The Scoutmasters' Association will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting tonight at the home of Ralph E. Sliger, scoutmaster of Troop No. 5.

The meeting will be a combined business and social session. During the remainder of the year such a meeting will be held on the last Monday in each month.

The meeting will convene at 7:30 o'clock. Scout Executive R. C. Will of Uniontown will be a guest. A musical program will be given by scouts of Troop No. 5.

All district officers, the district embracing Connellsville and South Connellsville, also superintendents and other Sunday school workers are also expected. The public is urged to come.

L. G. Hoover is president of the Connellsville District.

IS CANDIDATE FOR AUDITOR GENERAL

Accedes to Wishes of Friends Throughout the State and Formally Announces.

PRIMARY IS ON APRIL 22

Geo. Edward Martin has announced that he has acceded to the wish of his many friends throughout the state and will be a candidate for nomination for auditor general on the Republican ticket at the primary election to be held on Tuesday, April 22.

Because the primary election comes early this year the campaign will be necessarily short, and active work in General Martin's behalf will be begun at once by his friends. At a meeting of Washington county Republican leaders on Saturday the work of organizing his campaign here was begun.

General Martin was born on a farm in Washington township, Greene county, on September 18, 1879. After attending the public schools of his district he entered Weynsburg College, being graduated in the class of 1901.

He enlisted in Company K, 10th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, on May 11, 1898, and served during the Spanish-American War in the Philippines.

After his discharge from the federal service, he enlisted in Company K, 10th Pennsylvania Infantry, and arose from the rank of private to brigadier general, being at present commander of the 5th Infantry Brigade.

He served as major on the Mexican border in 1916 and during the World War was promoted to lieutenant colonel. He was in command of the 110th Infantry, 28th Division, during much of its hardest fighting in France.

General Martin was in the federal service three and one-half years, half of which time was spent overseas. He received the distinguished service cross with oak leaf for extraordinary heroism in action during the World War.

He was admitted to the bar in 1906 and practiced in Waynesburg until 1921, when he accepted the position of trust officer of the Citizens National Bank of Washington. He is a member of the Masonic order and its affiliated bodies, the B. P. O. Elks, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Legionnaires Force Reds
Meeting to Honor Lenine
To Salute American Flag

By United Press.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 28.—At the point of rifles, members of the American Legion, backed by local police, broke up an alleged "Red" meeting in honor of Nikolai Lenine here Sunday and forced each person present to salute the American flag.

The Legionnaires, led by national Vice-Commander William B. Healey were deputized by Mayor Hart as special policemen and with an armed color guard marched to the hall in Washington street where they invaded the meeting, broke it up, tore down a red flag and roughly handled several who had small red flags in their coats.

A quantity of alleged Red literature was seized and Tuesday said today he had informed the Department of Justice of the entire affair and that agents would arrive tomorrow to investigate.

Two Men Still Missing Following Explosion in Indiana County Saturday.

TWELVE MAKE WAY OUT

SHANKTOWN, Jan. 28.—The bodies of all but two of the 38 men trapped in the gas explosion of the Lanesville mine of the Barnes-Tucker Coal Company near here late Saturday have been recovered.

No hope is held for the recovery alive of the two missing men.

Fifty miners were in the mine when the blast hit. Just as they were gathering preparatory to leaving the shaft, nine were rescued by John Fico, a miner of Stafoth. Three died or dug their way to safety, leaving 33 entombed.

John Stone, mine foreman whose body has been recovered, had refused a transfer to a neighboring mine a week ago. Alfred Sisko, his assistant, had several thousand dollars, his savings, sewed in the inside of his shirt.

J. J. Walsh of the State Bureau of Mines reached Shankstown Sunday and was gathering data preparatory to opening an investigation today.

BANDITS SERVE
GUARDS BOOZE,
TAKE 60 BARRELS

By United Press.

HAMMOND, Ind. Jan. 28.—Bandits early today looted the Hammond Distillery Company here of 60 barrels of liquor, valued at $100,000, distillery prices and more than twice as much at bottling prices.

Oscar Sprague, Anthony Clark and Angelo Bonini, watchmen, are in custody pending further investigation. They said police that between 11 and 80 men drove up in three trucks last night and forced them into a small room. The three said they were armed with liquor until they were helplessly drunk then the bandits drove away with the liquor.

PARENTS CLAIM
BODY OF GIRL
RUM RUNNER

By United Press.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—Lying still and white on a glass-encased slab in the county morgue, the body of Mrs. Laura Hall, 19, remains unclaimed by her husband, a hotel man of Huntingdon, W. Va.

Her parents have arranged to ship the body to Huntingdon tonight so that the girl who left her husband and baby to become the companion of rum runners can be buried in her home town. She is said to have been the sweetheart of H. L. Moore, the taxi driver who was at the wheel of the car in which police found the body, with a fatal wound in the head, early Sunday morning.

Moore and two other men, E. LaFerty and Charles Jordan, are under arrest in connection with the girl's death. Jordan, said to have done the shooting, claimed it was accidental.

Huntingdon police claim the three arrested men are rum runners, plying their trade between Pittsburg and Wheeling.

Lewis Candidate for State Treasurer

By United Press.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28.—Auditor General Samuel S. Lewis today formally declared himself a candidate for state treasurer at the Republican primary in April.

"My platform will be my record in office. It is an open book," Lewis declared, in announcing his candidacy. He said the duties of his present office and the one he seeks are in many respects similar and the experience he has qualified him for the place.

A similar conference of all constables and police officers will be held in the courthouse on Saturday, February 2, at 2 o'clock P. M.

In Get-Together Conference and in Explain Duties Under Laws.

In Enforcement of Prohibition, Automobile and Other Laws; Search and Seizure and Other Features Made Plain; To Meet Constables Saturday.

A very significant gathering took place in the courthouse at Uniontown on Saturday, with respect to closer cooperation between the law-enforcement agencies of the county, when District Attorney E. D. Brown met the justices of the peace of the county in conference.

The primary object was meeting personally and becoming better acquainted and to more fully understand the legal and industrial aspects of the public offices filled by those in attendance. "We want," said District Attorney Brown, "to meet each other, know each other, know whom we are talking to over the telephone, work together and not against each other, and come to a closer relationship with the spirit of cooperation."

Mr. Brown asked that every justice provide him with his name, post-office address, telephone number, district his represented, his constable's name, address, telephone number and that constable's deputy.

Mr. Brown gave a somewhat detailed explanation of the law relating to the enforcement of prohibition. "You must bear in mind especially," he said, "that you have no right to raid a private dwelling without a search warrant. Furthermore, under the State Liquor Law, you have no right to get a search warrant to raid a private dwelling unless there is a store or a business which is a part of the same dwelling, or unless you have evidence of the sale of liquor in or from that dwelling."

"You must bear in mind that you have no right to destroy willfully any private property whatsoever in making a raid or an arrest, and that when you obtain physical evidence of violation of law you must not destroy it, but must immediately carefully itemize all the evidence thus discovered and turn this evidence over to the proper authorities, obtaining a receipt therefor."

In answer to questions Mr. Brown explained that an officer, "upon probable cause, as directed by law and in no other way," can break open a locked suit case found in an automobile and Speakers at the institute in addition to Rev. Moore are W. U. Keller, Rev. O. E. Emerson, Dr. H. N. Cameron, all of Dawson; Rev. C. H. Beall of Vanderbilt; Rev. Judson Jefferys of Scottsdale; Miss Mary A. Collins and Dr. D. L. Marsh of Pittsburgh and Marie C. Bevan, conference secretary. The institute is being held under the auspices of the Vanderbilt League.

Anderson Scores as One of His Mystery Men Is Identified

By United Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Henry Mann, one of William H. Anderson's "mystery men" in his accounting for receiving and expending some $25,000 was identified today, scoring heavily for the Anti-Saloon League officials. M. J. Bloomer, Washington, and New York publicity men, and one of the American newspaper representatives in Paris, after the peace conference arrested a sensation by court this morning when he testified to having known and dealt with Henry Mann during 1913 and 1914.

Bloomer declared he met Mann in the spring of 1913 when the latter consulted him on the matter of publicity for the Anti-Saloon League. Bloomer said that during 1913 and 1914 he talked with Mann once a week, accepted money from Mann for Anti-Saloon League publicity and did a large amount of such work.

It was at this time, William H. Anderson testified, that he spent $25,000 received from a mysterious Mr. King for publicity work carried on by the mysterious Mr. Mann. It was the second degree of the defense for the day. Earlier Percy Morris, certified public accountant had testified that certain alterations on the league's books, made at Anderson's direction "did not mean anything."

Is Not Used Phone.
Three arrests for drunkenness were made over the week-end. Joe Coyne, John A. Budd of Delerion Run and John Rich of Scottsdale were each fined $100 in default of which they will serve 90 days in jail. Rich gave his age as 63 years. This morning when a friend called to inquire if he could be of assistance, police had to talk for the prisoner. He did not understand a telephone, he said, never having used one.

Plan School Annual Banquet.
The Girls' Auxiliary to the Coke Region Division, West Penn. Section, N. E. L. A., will hold its second annual banquet on Tuesday, February 19, at the Pleasant Valley Country Club, at 6:30 o'clock. The committee in charge is composed of Misses Stella Baker, Elizabeth Glenn, Lucy Kitterer, Ora B. Davidson and Mrs. J. C. Weaver.

Major Adams Sees Crisis Soon in Wave of Crime

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—Murder, banditry and bootlegging are mounting toward revolution in the largest cities of the United States within five years, with the underworld opposing the forces of society in an effort which will determine for once and all the power of right, was the assertion of Major Lynn G. Adams, commander of the Pennsylvania state troopers, at a mass meeting of citizens of the Homewood-Brushfield-Lincoln avenue district in the Homewood Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Major Adams' address was furthered by the vitriolic attacks—one by Dr. D. L. Marsh, who assaulted the Allegheny county judges, and the second by Dr. C. R. Zahniser. Both took for their subjects "Law Enforcement" and attacked county judges for failure to properly punish criminals and bootleggers, terming the sentences pronounced by them, "more days on the wheel."

Babe Born to Connolly's.

Word has been received here of the birth of a 10 pound son to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Connolly of Gates on January 24. Mrs. Connolly was before her marriage Miss Agnes Kelly of Puritan. Mr. Connolly is a well known business man of Gates. The new arrival, who has been named Patrick Joseph after his paternal grandfather, is a nephew of Mrs. William Finnerty of Leisenring, and Mrs. Joseph Oglethorpe of Monarch.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—complexion—bills look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you plenty per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

MOTHER!

Baby's Best Laxative is "California Fig Syrup"

When baby is constipated, has wind-colic, feverish breath, coated tongue, or diarrhea, a half-teaspoonful of genuine "California Fig Syrup" promptly moves the poisons, gases, bile, souring food and waste right out. Never cramps or overacts. Babies love its delicious taste.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has full directions for infants in arms, and children of all ages. Plainly printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation at a ruinous advertisement.

BIRD SYMBOL OF INNOCENCE

Among Egyptians Sign of the Dove, Symbol for Love—in Scriptures Holy Ghost.

The turtle dove is one of our most interesting and historic birds. It is not very plentiful, for it lays only two eggs at a time, and while both eggs usually hatch, an average of not more than one fledgling per pair reaches maturity.

The cooing of doves contains four notes. The first is the highest, uttered with all kinds of breath, as if at the end of a sob; this is followed by three long, deep, diminishing notes, which no power of feeling can hear without sympathy. After a momentary pause the same four notes are repeated. It is the call of mates to mates, as well as the moaning of mates for mates.

Since long before the Bible was written the dove has been regarded as the symbol for innocence, gentleness and affection. Among Egyptians the sign of the dove stood for love. In art and the Scriptures a dove typifies the Holy Ghost.—Detroit News.

FINDS WAY TO GET NEW CAR

Shawn Discovers How to Make His Wealthy Mother-in-Law Pay for Automobile.

Mrs. Brown's mother is a well-to-do woman, but "careful" when it comes to spending money. She is also proud of her social standing in her home town up state. For some time the Browns, who are not well off, have been vainly endeavoring to persuade her to help them out in the purchase of a fiver. Recently Mrs. Brown went up state to visit her mother, and Brown was invited for the week-end. He arrived on time—in a second-hand car. The sight of the miserable, poverty-stricken car, wrecked in front of her door was too much for the proud old lady. What would her friends say? She turned to Brown and ordered: "You take that terrible thing to the store in town, at once. Trade it in for a new car and send the bill for the difference to me."—New York Sun and Globe.

INCOME TAX IN NUTSHELL.

WHO? Single persons who had gross income of $1,000 or over; married couples who had net income of $2,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period is from January 1 to March 15, 1924.

WHERE? Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Form 1040A and Form 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? Four per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the personal exemption and credits for dependents. Eight per cent normal tax on balance of net income. Surplus from 1 per cent to 60 per cent on net income over $4,000 for the year 1923.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS.

No. 32.

While the word "depreciation" is not used in the revenue act, it provides that in computing net income there shall be allowed as deductions "a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence."

In claiming depreciation, the following fundamental principles must be observed: Only such depreciation as results from the exhaustion, wear, and tear of property resulting from its use in business, trade, profession, or vocation is allowed. Depreciation in the value of the taxpayer's home or property, such as an automobile used for pleasure or convenience, can not be claimed. Reduction of value due to changes in the social or business condition of a neighborhood, or change in street grade, or fluctuations of market value can not be claimed. Depreciation in the value of land, whether improved or unimproved, can not be claimed.

Depreciation may be claimed on all business property, which includes not only buildings, but machinery of a permanent character, automobiles, farm tractors, mine and mill equipment, office furniture and books.

The value to be used for depreciation is the cost of the property. However, in the case of property acquired prior to March 1, 1913, the deduction shall be computed upon the basis of its fair market price or value as of that date.

Deductions for depreciation must be made as a separate item of the taxpayer's return and must be explained by showing separately each class of property, its cost at the date of purchase (fair market price or value as of March 1, 1913, if purchased prior to that date), estimated life, depreciation charged off for the taxable year, and total depreciation charged off for all previous years.

Three Years Time Not Enough To Wipe Out Good Dreco Did

Shooktown man relieved of nervousness, constipation and stomach trouble and feels the good effects today. Full of energy and vitality.

Nearly three years ago this man took Dreco for nervousness, constipation, rundown system and loss of energy. This great herbal remedy built him up and put him in good condition and he still feels good, showing the powerful and lasting effects of Dreco. He is Mr. Augustus Teyrer, a prosperous farmer of Shooktown, near Frederick, Md.

"I had been feeling 'all in' for some time, and no energy to do my work, felt tired all the time, bowels were bound up, nervous on edge, couldn't sleep and had no appetite. I began taking Dreco and soon noticed a big improvement so kept it up till I was feeling fine. My nerves quieted down so that my sleep became sound and refreshing, bowels acted daily. My appetite picked up and my stomach digested the food properly. Dreco just simply built me up and made me feel like my same self."

Frederick, Md., Dec. 29, 1920.
"It has been nearly three years since I took Dreco and I feel the good effects till this day. It built me up, got my vital organs regulated and increased my strength and energy. My bowels are still regular, stomach in good condition and nerves are steady. I certainly can recommend Dreco for the lasting effects."

Dreco is made from the pure, unadulterated juices of twelve remarkable plants, roots, barks and leaves. Scientifically blended by the David H. Fulton Co. Laboratories of Baltimore, they act directly on the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, and tend to relieve constipation, headaches, rheumatism, catarrh, biliousness, dizziness, heart fluttering, gas on stomach and other troubles.

Dreco is being specially introduced by Connelville Drug Co. Also for sale by Hoffman's Drug Store, Scottsdale, and sold by druggists everywhere.

KITS COTY HOUSE MONUMENT

Ancient Pile of Stones in Wheat Field in England Marks Battlefield of 466.

In the year 1877 a citizen of London spent a holiday at Hellingbourne in Kent. He wrote in his diary that the principal object which arrested his attention was a large pile of stones in a wheat field by the roadside, and on inquiry found it was Kits Coty house.

Antiquarians tell us that in the year 466 a battle took place between the Britons and Danes on the banks of the Medway at Aylesford, and the stones now remaining are supposed to be a part of a monument then erected. There are two immense stone slabs, each nine tons weight, fixed on the end in the ground and inclining toward each other. Another slab in between them for support, and one great stone, of more than twelve tons, lies as a sort of transversely over all, making a kind of cell about seven feet each way and the same in height.

Today Kits Coty house stands as it did when the writer of the diary so carefully described it 60 years ago. In all probability, however, this structure had its origin long before the year 466, and it may even date back to the Stone Age. As to its name, it is possible that this monument was styled "Kits Coty house" during the Middle Ages. A Kentish rhyme of medieval origin refers to "Kits" going to Canterbury, and it is not at all improbable that Kit was a popular name among the pilgrims who would travel along the Pilgrims' Way (an old track running from Winchester to Canterbury), which crosses this very hillside only a few hundred yards down the hill.—Detroit News.

Described.
The inhabitants of a neighborhood town were seated on a cracker box exchanging desultory conversation.
"You know them hot cakes what the fellow slips in the window of the Forlorn Hope restaurant?"
"Yes, I know 'em."
"Ever try 'em?"
"Yes, I've tried 'em."
"What do you think of 'em?"
The citizen thus appealed to gazed reflectively toward the foothills for some minutes and then rendered judgment.
"That fellow's not a cook; he's a juggler."—Judge.

Waiting Leave.

One Mother Says:

All children love the sensation of whirling. When a little girl is restless, let her pretend she is a leaf being blown by the wind. Such movements as bending forward at the waist and running, then leaping and whirling, running again, etc., will be found to be stimulating to the child's imagination and at the same time most exhilarating.

Thousands File By Lenin Tomb

By United Press.

MOSCOW, Jan. 23.—In a marble tomb by the Kremlin wall, the body of Nikolai Lenin lay enshrined today while thousands unable to get near the ceremonial of burial Sunday passed in endless procession.

Flowers and more than 600 wreaths were heaped high about the mausoleum where workmen toiled on scaffolding in the construction shed, completing the tomb.

At 4 P. M. yesterday, while bells tolled, guns roared and bands blared the "Internationale," Lenin's body was taken to the appointed place.

Radio broadcasting stations caught the dirge and sent the sounds to every wireless station in Russia.

The weather was frightfully cold and thousands were frost-bitten.

Grim Reaper

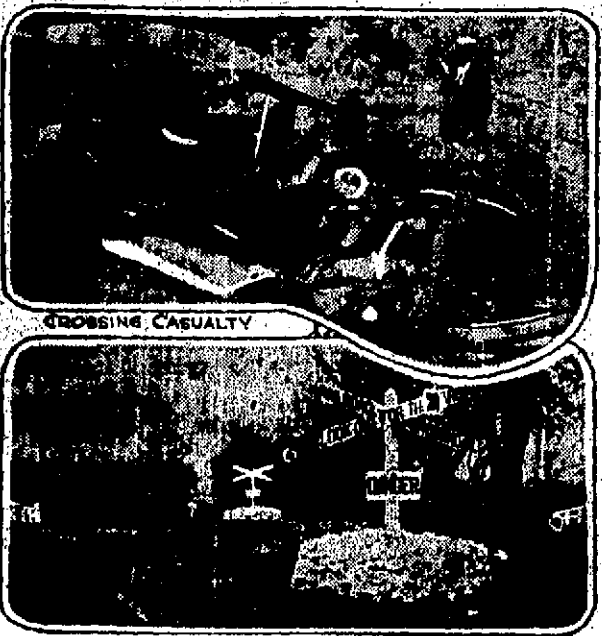

DR. E. K. STRAWN.

Funeral services for Dr. E. K. Strawn, a physician at West Newton for many years and well known in this community, were held this afternoon from the family home, followed by interment in the West Newton Cemetery. Dr. Strawn, was in his 79th year. He died Thursday, January 17, at the home of his son, Harry, at Los Angeles, Cal., where with his wife he had been visiting since early in November. Soon after his arrival at Los Angeles he was taken ill of pneumonia. He had apparently recovered. He died while sitting at the breakfast table. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Elizabeth Porter, a sister of Mrs. Carrie Truider, formerly of Connelldale and Mrs. Margaret Laughery, formerly of Dawson, both residents of Los Angeles, and of Mrs. James Smith of Dawson. Besides his second wife and son, Harry, he is survived by another son, and one daughter, Mrs. Cora Campbell, both of West Newton. Among the out of town relatives attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. John P. Truider of Broad Ford, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. M. E. Strawn of Dawson. Dr. Strawn was a cousin of M. E. Strawn.

"Stop, Look, Listen," Signs Obeyed by 97 Per Cent of Auto Drivers

FAIR ENOUGH

CHICAGO — Ninety-seven percent of the nation's automobiles was reasonable care in approaching railway grade crossings, according to Richard E. Kropf, supreme regent of the Royal Arcanum, who cited figures compiled by one of the great railway systems in an address on safety here.

"Grade crossings usually exact a ghastly toll of motorists, yet only a small part of the total number using the crossings are careless or reckless," said Mr. Kropf, who is head of the safety movement of the Royal Arcanum is preaching caution to the members of the 1800 societies of that order in the United States and Canada. "Careless checking of selected crossings during June, July and August of last year, when traffic is always heaviest, found only 8 percent of all motorists under ob-viousness, obviously careless or reckless. "In thirteen states, the careless 8 percent numbered 7,000 car drivers who by their failure to obey signals or slow down, not only jeopardized their own lives, but the lives of all the occupants of their cars. Speeding over crossings was the chief fault found by the inspectors. Railroad companies have done their part in providing 'stop' markings and in signalling the approach of trains to advance. In practically every grade crossing fatality, it is the motorist who is to blame. Most of them might be avoided."

The Royal Arcanum, numbering 185,000 members, has taken a definite stand in the movement to conserve life through the prevention of accidents in all walks of life. "This is a public as well as a fraternal duty," the supreme regent said.

7,000,000,000 More "Fags" Smoked In Past Year Due To Women's Adoption Of Habit

ABOVE: THE GLOBE THEATRE SMOKING-ROOM, FOR WOMEN FIRST OF ITS KIND IN THE COUNTRY. INSET MISS OLIVE JONES

CHICAGO—With Miss Lucy Page Gaston, famous foe of tobacco, lying here hors du combat in a hospital after being run down by a street-car, the Sears-Roebuck Foundation announced that the consumption of cigarettes increased 7,000,000,000 in 1923, over fifty million cigarettes having been smoked during the year.

Much of this increase is attributed to women. In January, 1922, the first smoking-room for women was installed in the Globe Theater, New York, and today no theater is without one, no dining-room in the city and few elsewhere forbid women smoking.

Though the question has been agitating educators, at least one, Miss Olive Jones, president of the National Education Association, has declared the habit harmless.

AARON WARD WOULD BE TURNOVER HITTER

Ambition of Yankee Key- stone Sacker to Hit Both Ways.

Aaron Ward, second baseman of the champion Yankees, is ambitious to become a "turnover" batsman. A "turnover" batsman is one who hits from either side of the plate, shifting his position to the style of pitching he is facing.

Ward always has batted as a right-hander. He is now experimenting from the other side of the plate and he is certain he will be able to improve his hitting many points when he can, with equal efficiency, change his position to suit the pitching.

Once during the last western trip of the Yankees Ward attempted to make the change, but Manager Huggins believed that the experiment might be too costly in the midst of a pennant race that had not yet been won. But while the Yankees were playing exhibition contests, Ward took advantage of the opportunity and batted left-handed.

"Of course, I am still crude in my efforts," said Ward when speaking of his attempt to change his batting style. "It may take a long time, but one thing that impresses me in my trials is the fact that I am able to see the ball much quicker and more clearly when I bat from the left side. I don't know why this is, but it is true."

"I am not able to swing with the same accuracy, nor put the same force in the blow as I now do batting right-handed, but I feel certain that this will be remedied when I have become more accustomed to the new style. I intend to continue the experiment until I have either mastered it or make a failure of it. But I am certain that I will succeed."

Modern Pigskin Forms Contrast in Footballs

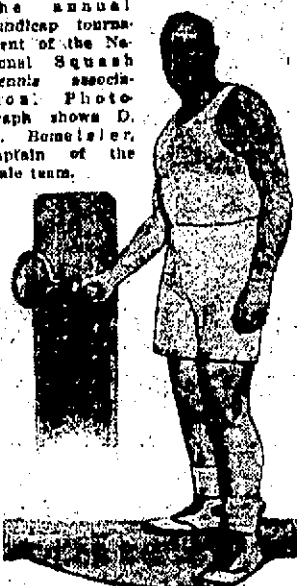

Eighteenth-century sportsmen would have been strong in their condemnation of the footballs in use nowadays. They would have said that such "balls of wind" were fit only for old men and women. That is because footballs in those days preferred something more solid. Their footballs were made of straw plaited into a rope, which, after being looped and bundled into a ball, was kicked about in water until it acquired almost the business of iron.

McGraw Has Long String of Star First Basemen

If any one wants a first baseman, he can get one from McGraw. The Giants have Kelly, O'Donnell, Bentley and Bill Terry, the last from Toledo. Kelly and Terry are not good for much anywhere else than to play first. O'Donnell can double in the outfield, and Bentley is a pitcher—perhaps a better pitcher than he is a first-sacker.

Star Squash Player

Eighty players were drawn for the annual handicap tournament of the National Squash Tennis association. Photo-graph shows D. M. Homelander, captain of the Yale team.

AMERICA'S MILERS ARE GREATEST EVER

Ray, Watson, Becker, Hahn and Others Should Draw Well.

Every indication points to the United States sending the greatest string of milers that ever were assembled, on the same team after the 1,600 meter race at the Paris Olympic games next summer. At least not since the team won over 11 years ago with John Paul Jones, Abel Kivint, Norman Thayer and Louis Mierla on its roster his Uncle Sam boasted of so many speedy eight-furlong boys as will grace the Paris team.

There are three men on the American trucks who are capable of doing 4:17 or better under favorable conditions—Jule Ray, Ray Baker and Ray Watson. Another, Lloyd Hahn, of the Boston A. A., will get under 4:20 next year unless he disappoints signally. Then there's A. Arton, the Chicago A. A. flyer, who is considered by mid-western track sharps as one of the best mile prospects in the country. Ernie Krogh, the former University of Chicago athlete, should get into the 4:20 class also. He has done 4:22 this season in spite of over-training a bit during the early months of the outdoor campaign.

Neither is the veteran Jimmy Connolly, who will shortly don the colors of the Newark Athletic club, to be ignored in shaping up America's line-up for the 1,600 meter race at Paris. Connolly has beaten 4:18 three times during his career.

Approximately 887,000 football fans attended the game at Franklin field, Philadelphia, Pa., last season. The average for nine games was 48,000.

Buffalo International players will do their training at Rome, Ga. The Columbus team of the American association will work out at Winter Park, Fla.

JOE DIEOLA TROUBLESOME

Broadway Man Threatens Family
With Revolver and Then Turns It
On Officers; Fined by Burgess, Then
Wife Makes Charge Before Justice.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Jan. 23.—Friday night Chief of Police Frank Gause and Patrolmen Gause and Hoffman made a raid in Jonings avenue that uncovered 225 gallons of moonshine and wine, a 50-gallon still and 13 barrels of whisky. The man to whom this belonged was James Ross. He was arrested and taken before Justice of the Peace William Kennell on Saturday evening, where he was held under $1,000 bail for his appearance at court. At the hearing there was a delegation present from the W. C. T. U., the ministers, and citizens who were backing up the officers in their work.

Joe Dieola Gets Red.

Joe Dieola of South Broadway was given a hearing before Burgess Walter Shaffer on Saturday evening, charged with being drunk and disorderly and pointing a firearm. Joe got drunk and flourished the revolver at his family, and also pointed it at Policemen Hoffman and Gause who went after Joe when he decided that he had become a bad man. Burgess Shaffer fined Dieola $40. His wife then went before Justice of the Peace William Kennell and made a charge of carrying arms and surety of the peace. He will likely be given a hearing this evening.

In Pittsburgh Hospital.

John Reed is at Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, undergoing treatment.

Covered Dish Supper.

A covered-dish supper will be held by the W. C. T. U. in the basement of the Reformed Church Thursday evening at 6 o'clock.

Prohibition Anniversary.

A meeting to commemorate the fourth anniversary of the adoption of the 18th Amendment was held at the Christian Church yesterday, with a representative crowd present. Mrs. Lucy A. Poole presided. Mrs. C. W. Shaffer read the Scripture lesson. Rev. J. O. Glenn led in prayer. Miss Mabel Ziron sang. Rev. Judson Jeffreys gave a talk on "A Square Deal for the 18th Amendment." Rev. Elmer E. Williams spoke on "What Is Back of the 18th Amendment." Rev. Paul S. Wright gave a report of the citizenship conference at Harrisburg on January 2. Rev. J. B. Hutchison talked on the enforcement of the 18th amendment. Several new members were secured. Rev. Jeffreys pronounced the benediction.

Brotherhood Day.

Brotherhood Day at the United Brethren Church yesterday was very successful. Miss Mercedes Gladden was at the organ. Rev. W. B. Nelson, who has charge of a mission at Great Falls, Mon., was the speaker. In the evening F. D. O'Rourke, T. N. Brownfield, Elmer Weaver, I. N. Huntley, W. H. Shaner and W. F. Stoner took part on the program. A chorus from the Men's Bible Class furnished music.

Officers Elected.

On Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock a supper was held at the Baptist Church for the Men's Bible Class. This being the annual meeting. The Sunday School Orchestra furnished music, both before and after the supper. The following officers were elected: President, A. L. Rosenstock; vice-president, D. P. Rhoad; secretary, E. A. Prentiss; treasurer, R. C. Percy. Addresses were given by W. T. Werts, E. S. Glasgow, Rev. Elmer Williams and H. A. Rowe. The committee which served the supper was made up of Mrs. John E. Howells, Mrs. W. W. Kibler, Mrs. Arthur Snyder and Mrs. Ed. Perry.

Mrs. Ober and her daughter, Mrs. Maude, have sold their home in Arthur avenue to Randall Lyons. The Obers will go to Uniontown to make their home.

Mrs. L. O. Kessler has gone to Washington, D. C., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Floyd Hartman.

What Is A Good Radio Outfit?

This question seems to be in the minds of so many people who are interested in Radio. So we are taking this opportunity to answer it for you.

1—The first essential is a GOOD RECEIVER—one that is manufactured by a reputable concern, such as Atwater-Kent, "ZENITH" (Chicago Radio Laboratory), "FEDERAL," "RADIOLA" (Radiola Corporation), DeFOREST.

Accessories and parts made by the manufacturers of the above sets are, of course, essentials of a good receiving set.

2—PROPER INSTALLATION: No matter how much you pay for your set you will never enjoy its full benefits if the installation is faulty. The highest priced set you could buy would be practically worthless to you unless properly assembled and installed. And in this important matter is where the REED ORGANIZATION means so much to radio owners. "REED INSTALLED RADIO" means a good set installed in your home (without any worry or bother on your part). A Complete Receiving Set that can be operated with ease by any member of your family. At the simple turn of a dial you can tune in broadcasting stations near and far at will. REED'S MEN ARE TRAINED ELECTRICAL EXPERTS. And yet, this efficient service costs you no more.

3—SERVICE: No man-made invention is so perfect as not to need occasional attention. Radio is no exception. Occasionally certain things will go wrong. But you don't need to be without continuous performance of your Radio. That's why we have a Service Department of skilled electricians to keep your set in continuous operation.

REED INSTALLED RADIO is really all you need to keep in mind about your set. It is just another way of answering the question: "What is a Good Radio Outfit?"

Fashion's Fancies

Chic Clothes for Misses' Wardrobes

Velvets, Crepes, Voiles, Soft Silks and Georgettes Are in Vogue.

In the tailored styles for young people are some exceedingly smart, picturesque suits, observes a fashion writer in the New York Times. One that is especially popular this season is a knit skirt of plain wool, cut a length to show the knees; a tailored blouse of pongee, and a box coat of homespun in plain or mixture. This is called a three-piece suit and is made for a young lady of ten or twelve years, though the smart and chicness of the model have created a demand for it in smaller and larger sizes. With it, for the younger girls, are worn a soft felt hat with narrow brim, or an Angora tam, heavy wool stockings and flat-footed calfskin shoes. There must be no mistake about the stockings or socks and shoes, for a little lady recently admonished her mother against the impropriety of wearing silk stockings and dressy shoes with any sort of sports clothes.

These three-piece suits are done in a number of combinations, usually with the plaided skirt, which may be so conveniently worn with any jacket or blouse and which is so comfortable for indoor, every-day wear when the coat is laid aside. Varying the plaid and plain goods together, some smart little suits are made all of the homespun and tweeds, occasionally with a narrow tailored skirt. Charming costumes for more dressy occasions are made of velvet. With all these, pretty soft overblouses of crepe or pongee are worn, and many of the white linen or muslin, that always give a girl's toilet such an appearance of crisp freshness.

Velvet is quite the rage this season, more especially for children's garments. Black is most popular for suits, coat and skirt, to be worn with any pretty waist and for the one-piece frocks for juniors and misses with which the gulleys of sheer muslin are so becoming. These, of course, must be finished with needlework, trimmed with a bit of lace, Irish, Valenciennes or flit, and some of the prettiest are smocked.

Valvet for Children. A stunning suit for a girl of fifteen is made of black velvet, the jacket and skirt banded with white rabbit fur, the blouse of white crepe de chine, with motifs and a slight edging of baby Irish lace. To complete this little fairy princess' toilet is a toque and a quaint round snuff of rabbit. Squirrel is used in trimming another suit of soft green, and one of Havana brown is untrimmed. To be worn with it are a soft, ribbon-trimmed beaver hat and a scarf of brown fox.

The party dress is the piece de resistance in a girl's wardrobe, for her first birthday frock to the momentous costume for her introduction to the social world. Lovely party things are designed for the girl who is having her first holiday from boarding school—the happy days when there is a round of festivities in her honor and her own little crowd has a full program of frolics.

For these there must be a number of semi-dressy toilets for the matinee and luncheon and the many excursions about town. The velvet three-piece suit, plenty of fresh guimpes, two or three soft one-piece dresses of crepe several styles, for service. But the crepes and voiles, soft silks and georgettes are almost universal in their vogue.

Simplicity is the keynote and in the best models elaboration of any kind is expressed in a touch of needlework. Fine embroidery or smocking. Lace is sparingly and judiciously introduced in frocks for girls, except in those for the tots, on some of which much baby Irish and real Valenciennes lace is used.

Frocks for girls at the junior age are the most difficult to select. When she is midway between girlhood and young ladyhood and growing by leaps and bounds she is a real problem in dressing. That she may appear correct and that she may be comfortable in her own consciousness as well as in her body and look her best as every girl at her age wishes to do, is matter for thought and taste and an infinite study of the order and fitness of things. Happily, the present fashion is one of straight lines and little trimming, of soft materials made so that every girl, even she that is awkward, may look and feel at ease.

Crepe in Lovely Shades. The crepe is adapted to these notes and are shown in lovely shades of the popular colors, browns and blues, greens, beige, rose, yellow and orchid. An engaging afternoon frock for a girl of fourteen or fifteen is worked out in pale green crepe de chine, the blouse long and fitted loosely. The bottom of the skirt, which is gathered quite full at the belt, is finished with a deep hem. The round neck and the cuffs of the elbow sleeves are stitched with a slender pattern of hand embroidery in shades of green flow. A sash of wide ribbon in Roman colors is wound about the waist and tied in a loose knot at one side. A tassel of mixed colors finishes each end of the sash.

There is a sentiment toward the revival of sheer muslin and tulle for dancing frocks such as were worn in the airy dances of years ago. But the dance of today is not the airy kind, and but a few exclusive models have found favor among the misses of individual taste. These are full-skirted, quaint frocks, with many wifles of the material or frills of delicate lace.

Some fairylike skirts are of tulle with several flounces overlapping and very full. One, all white, has each narrow ruffle edged with a single line of silver; with a ruffle around the neck and tiny puffed sleeves. Little slippers of silver, and a sash of silver ribbon fastened with a petite nosegay of roses and forget-me-nots create a picture to grace any day.

The most popular evening dress for girls between the ages of six and sixteen is of crepe or georgette, with the slightest suggestion of trimming. A sweetly pretty model shown by an exclusive shop is of white crepe, with long blouse and slightly draped skirt, boot-top length, the dress having a design in white ribbon of flowers and a trailing vine, extending from one shoulder to the knee.

Practical Things for Kiddies. In the land of fashions in miniature there is everything dainty and pretty and lovable. Kiddies wear practical duds nowadays, rompers and play-frocks and things for comfort. But many things are picturesque, too, and a trip through a little folks' bazaar is one of delight. Winter outfits display knitted slip-ons, in bright colors, silk or wool, and four-piece outfits, knickerbockers, sweaters, cap and leggings that are knitted or woven of angora wool in beautiful color combinations. Tiny top coats are of the softest wool, and some are trimmed with fur, squirrel or rabbit; and the fur coats are sunning.

The tendency in the styles for the littlest ones is also toward simplicity. A touch here and there of peasant needlework in bright colors is one variation of the all-white that we associate with the dress of a child. The French will always send little garments that have something their most faithful copyists seem not to put into their young people's clothes.

Vigorous Pity. Husband (frowning and sighing)—Aren't you going to church this morning? Wife—No; I'm not feeling well. Husband—Then call a messenger boy, and send him. The family must be represented.

Preparedness. Visitor—Is Miss Maud in? Maid—No, sir.

"Aw, well, I'll leave my card so that she'll know I called." "There's no need; she saw you through the window when you were coming up the steps."—London Advertiser.

ODD FISH OF SOUTHERN SEAS

Torpedo or Electric Ray Has Nearly Circular Body and Weighs Eighty Pounds.

The torpedo or electric ray, a fish in the Southern seas, grows to a large size, sometimes weighing seventy or eighty pounds. This peculiar fish has a nearly circular body, a short tail and a very small mouth. The back in brownish in color, and the underneath parts are white.

The torpedo obtains its name from its power of giving a violent shock, similar to an electric shock, to anything with which it comes in contact. Whenever an enemy approaches the fish emits from its body a kind of electricity which incapacitates the attacker immediately. In capturing its food the torpedo finds this power of use. Being very inactive, it cannot pursue the small fish which form its diet, so it lies in wait until they swim close by and then throws out its powerful shock, which instantly renders them helpless. If a person touches this strange fish he is attacked by cramp, which affects the stomach, producing a kind of convulsion. For this reason the torpedo is sometimes known as the "cramp fish."

Another "Indoor Sport." "The pretty girl was being conducted round the prison and occasionally she paused to give a few words of comfort to one or other of the more miserable-looking prisoners."

"A case of melancholia," announced the warden, who was acting as guide, as they came to one cell.

"How sad!" murmured the visitor. "I suppose," she remarked to the inmate of the cell, "that the singing of the birds relieves the monotony of your weary life?"

"The singing of the birds, miss?" repeated the convict, nonplussed. "Yes," said the visitor, "the little jillabirds. They must be such a comfort to you!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Useful One-Piece Frock.

One-piece frocks are designed for every occasion, the difference being a matter of material. In the midwinter models velvet is modish. It is so flattering to the complexion of youth, so serviceable equally for daytime and evening. A ravishing affair for a lady of twelve dresses her like a little cardinal in scarlet velvet, with nothing to contrast with the flaming shade. A deep plaited trim of scarlet children falls from the shallow round neckline, and the frock is sleeveless.

Another model in aquamarine blue velvet is edged about the neck and quarter-length tight sleeves with squirrel, and is worn over a girdle of the white net, the full undersleeves of which are drawn in snugly at the wrist.

With the exception of velvet, little heavy material is seen in the one-piece dresses. There is always, of course, the Peter Thompson type of outfit for athletics and outings, and the garment of serge or cheviot with bloomers in DEPOSING THE NEEDLE! A NEW WAY TO MAKE THINGS—GLUECRAFT!

Graceful appointments for the home can be made easily with liquid glue. Be sure to use the best quality. Squeeze the glue on to a saucer and allow to dry slightly. Then apply sparingly to the fabric. Handsome book ends are made by padding metal frames and covering with brocade ribbon which is held in place with glue.

The flower basket in the glass bottom tray is a cut-out design from brilliant chintz, applied to a plain silk lining with a very thin touch of glue around the edges.

Two card boxes, decorated with moire silk and glued together upon a covered cardboard base form a distinctive double deck container for the bridge table.

A three-panel cardboard frame and a cardboard memorandum pad with a brocade covering glued neatly over them make attractive table accessories for the telephone corner.

The picture frame is cardboard covered with ivory tulle and bordered with a two-panel ribbon of deep rose and ivory.

Bird patterned cretonne glued over a plain pine table turns it into a smart companion piece for the arm chair. A coat of varnish applied over the entire cretonne covered surface will add lustre and preserve the fabric. All these articles of brocade materials look well against walls which have been painted a neutral tint, which is in accord with highest decorative standards.

Meyersdale High, Showing Knowledge of the Game, Is Nearly Victor Over Cokers

Local Quintet, Staging Effective Rally, Overcomes Lead and Wins.

MARGIN NARROW, 29-28

Meyersdale High School, like all other good teams of that place, can play basketball. The Cokers, with their string of 14 straight victories, narrowly escaped a defeat at the hands of the Somerset quintet here on Saturday night. After a thrilling game the count was 29-28.

While it was generally conceded that Meyersdale would be pretty good, it was hardly considered that the little school would have the class shown before the crowd of fans gathered at the gymnasium for the game. It was the most spectacular clash of the season and sent the rosters into tingling with excitement.

The locals stepped into an early lead and held this throughout the score at the half-way mark being 12-14. In the second half, however, the visitors opened an effective offensive and soon tied things up, then went a step further and took a four point lead. Then the fireworks began. The Coker "wonders," displaying the hang-on tenacity which has marked all their victories this season, kept up the pace until the right moment and then turned in the victory.

With 30 seconds left to play the score was 27-27. LaRue was fouled and made both the free ones count. A few seconds later Meyersdale was awarded one free point and Reich charged this one but the game ended. The Cokers had won again. It made the 14th straight victory.

The line-up:

C. H. S.—Meyersdale—29.
O'Donnell 12, Reich 10, LaRue 10, Shaw 3, Dull 2, George, Delegate.
Field goals—LaRue 4, O'Donnell 3, Shaw 3, Reich 3, Dull 2, George, Delegate.
Foul goals—O'Donnell 4 out of 6, Reich 4 out of 6, LaRue 4 out of 6, Wilhelm 3 out of 3, Reich 7 out of 10, Dull 1 out of 2, Shaw 2 out of 4, Duxon 2 out of 2.
Referee—Wall.

Floor Game Comment.
Redstone Township's High School basketball team, traveling at a record pace this season, hung up a new record Saturday night when playing Mount Pleasant Township High. The score was 66-1. Lynn made the only score by dropping in one foul goal out of two attempts. Markle of Redstone made 19 field goals.

Uniontown High School defeated Waynesburg High Saturday night, 19-7. Waynesburg "blew" in the second half.

Redstone Township is hot on the trail of the Uniontown High School team and is almost certain to force the countyseaters into a game. The Redstone proposition is to play a home and home series, with a third game if necessary, on a neutral floor, or just one game, to be played on a neutral floor.

Troop 8, Boy Scouts easily defeated Greenwood A. C. Friday night on the Armory floor by a score of 25 to 2. The game was one-sided throughout.

"Those boys know more about basketball than any other team we have played this season," said Coach Caskey Rette, in commenting on the Meyersdale-Connellsville basketball game Saturday night. "They were certain of what they were doing and knew how to go about it."

It seems as though basketball players just grow in Meyersdale. The independent teams in that town always rate among the best and the games draw big crowds. Basketball is Meyersdale's chief winter sport.

The Nelson Girls play at Perryopolis this evening. It being a return game with the Perry Township High School teachers.

In a basketball game Saturday night Latrobe High School defeated Jeannette High 32-24. The game was one of the W. P. I. A. League clashes. The Cokers have won from both teams.

The biggest game on the High School schedule this year looms as the return clash with Norwin High here as the final game of the W. P. I. A. League schedule. The Cokers hold one victory over the team and it begins to look as though another will be needed to assure the Cokers the honors in this section of the League as Norwin has lost no other game as yet.

ART EXHIBIT AT TROTTER SCHOOLS JAN. 30 TO FEB. 1

An art exhibit will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of this week at the Trotter school building. The proceeds to be used for the purchase of pictures for the school. The exhibit will consist of pictures of more than ordinary interest, including 200 carbon photographs, photographs, prints in full color, etc., loaned by the Boston Art Exhibition Company, Inc., of Belmont, Mass. Only the very best representations of the masterpieces of art of different countries and different periods will be exhibited.

The school rooms in which the pictures will be displayed will be thrown open to the public so as all may pass through and view the pictures.

The object of the display is to give the people of the community an opportunity to view a collection of the world's famous masterpieces of painting, sculpture, architecture and to encourage and foster the study of art in the schools as well as the teaching of art; also to raise funds by which pictures may be hung on the walls of the various rooms. In many places schools have secured a large number of pictures through private gifts selected at the exhibit. Such gifts will be marked free with a brass label bearing the name of the donor or the person in whose memory the picture is given.

He has written to Rugby authorities in England asking that they furnish him with material in the form of photographs and histories of championships which he can use to arouse such interest in Rugby it will be possible to add that style of football game to next season's sports calendar.

Reds Outdrew Spokes in Attendance During 1923

The Cincinnati club officials have issued a statement of attendance for 1923 that shows $75,000 in round numbers paid at the gate to see the Reds play at home. Cincinnati is justly proud of the record, for on basis of population it is considerably more than 100 per cent. What states Cincinnati most is that the rival Ohio city of Cleveland, with an attendance of 558,000, not only was below the Reds in total, but also far below in proportion of attendance to population, since Cleveland has a population practically double that of Cincinnati.

When Is A White Sale More than a White Sale?

THIS question is to be very clearly answered for you in the Annual Sales of White—to begin next Friday, February 1st.

A White Sale is more than a White Sale, for instance, when it brings fine low prices not only on white goods but on lingerie materials of every wanted color.

A White Sale is more than a White Sale when it takes the trouble to have finished models made up from the featured materials. So that you can know how they'll look in real life.

A White Sale is more than a White Sale when it tries to be helpful—as well as to bring very worth while concessions in price.

In addition to the special features we have planned, the coming event will introduce quantities of fresh new merchandise—wash fabrics, domestics, bedding, knit underwear, linens, etc.

And there will be plenty of special values in dainty and wearable lingerie—tub blouses and the like.
